

THE PHILIPPINE STAR

TRUTH SHALL PREVAIL

(From left) Inna and Ksenia Gavrilenko, Russian artist Natalya Bronzova, fashion designer Joyce Pilarsky, Kathy Mas, Fabiana Yan and Maria Victoria Peñas.

All things Russian

An unforgettable celebration of Russian art, culture and tradition was held recently at the Isabella Ballroom of the Makati Shangri-La Manila.

The event, called the Russian Ball, now on its second year, was graced by the who's who in government, business, and social sectors.

The talented Russian artist Natalya Bronzova showcased her artworks with a stunning exhibit, while statuesque fashion designer Joyce Pilarsky presented her show-stopping gold-and-yellow-themed gowns, which were worn on the runway by Russian and Filipino models.

It was an unforgettable commemoration of all things Russia.

Congratulations to the organizers of the wonderful Russian Ball!

(From left) Doctors Manson Fok and Billy Chan, Health Secretary Francisco Duque and Luda Visotakyh.

(From left) Trade Undersecretary Abdulgani Macatoman, Sen. Sherwin Gatchalian, Natalya Bronzova and Rose Solangon.

Natalya Bronzova explains the inspiration behind one of her stunning masterpieces in collaboration with Filipino artist Pancho Plano — the first historical mural on Russian-Filipino friendship.

